THE HISTORY OF THE MILWAUKEE TIMES

The Milwaukee Times Weekly Newspaper was established in October of 1981. Originally call “The Christian Times,” the paper focused on the vibrant faith community here in Milwaukee. The paper was founded by journalist the late Nathan Conyers, former nurse and community leader the late Louvenia Johnson, and local business man the late Luther Golden. Within its first year of publication, the paper grew in appeal to cover more general community news and was renamed The Milwaukee Times Weekly Newspaper. The Christian Times remains as a standing feature section to this day.

On June 1, 1992, The Milwaukee Times Weekly Newspaper and EconoPrint Copying, Typesetting and Printing Centers entered in to a partnership agreement. On that day, The Milwaukee Times Weekly Newspaper also moved into its new offices at 2214-2216 N. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Drive. In June 1999, the Milwaukee Times was able to purchase its own location and moved to 1936-38 N. Dr. Martin Luther King Drive. Eventually the Times would drop the EconoPrint name and become the Milwaukee Times Printing and Publishing, Co.

In March of 2020 the COVID-19 pandemic struck the world and Milwaukee went into lock down. As an essential service, due to the fact it was a media and printing outlet, the Milwaukee Times was allowed to continue business in the community. Refocusing our efforts on providing both entertainment and information for our readership to help guide them through this difficult world crisis.

In August 2021, the Conyers family sold the Milwaukee Times to local business man and faith leader the Rev. Harold D. Turner, Sr., starting a new era for publication. The Times would move once more to 2238 N. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in order to be more centrally located in the Bronzeville business district.

Over the years the Milwaukee Times has weathered many changes. But one thing always remained, our commit to our readership and our community to bring them quality and honest news and information both locally and from around the world.

ISSUE FEATURES

EVERY WEEK:

Local & National News - The most current news stories of the week from right here in Milwaukee as well as the world.

Perspectives - Our Perspectives section brings you thought provoking editorials from two talented local writers. Being Frank by Frank James looks at black culture and how it fits into modern American society. Every other week we feature activist Marian Wright Edelman's ChildWatch column as she looks at issues facing our children.

The Christian Times - This weekly section provides news and events happening in the church community. This section also features the largest listing of local churches in all of Wisconsin.

Education - Our weekly Education section features the latest news as it relates to local schools and education.

Health & Fitness - This section includes information on health and fitness that pertains specifically to the African American community. We offer tips on prevention and lifestyle improvements so that our readers will live healthier and happier lives. We more than welcome local health agencies to submit articles or features for this section.

Announcements/Classified - Do you have an upcoming event, an apartment to rent, something to sell, a shout-out, or a job opening? Then contact us about placing a classified or announcement. We have the most competitive rates of any of Milwaukee's local newspapers, big or small.

SEMI-WEEKLY FEATURES:

Wealth Building - Every 1st and 4th week, this section assists our readers in reaching their financial goals, from planning for their retirement to saving for their children's education; with in-depth advice articles from the top money experts.

Senior Living - Being over 60 these days is not the end, it's just the start of a new beginning. Seniors are living longer, healthier and more active lives. And our Senior Living section offers articles on helping maintain that lifestyle, so seniors can make the most out of their golden years.

Art & Entertainment - Our Arts & Entertainment section is more than just reviews of current movies. Our "Art 101" series spotlights the cultural contribution of African Americans to film, art, music, and theater.

Meal Times - Satisfy your culinary curiosity with new and exciting recipes. Learn cooking tips and tricks to improve your culinary skills.

RETAIL RATE POLICY

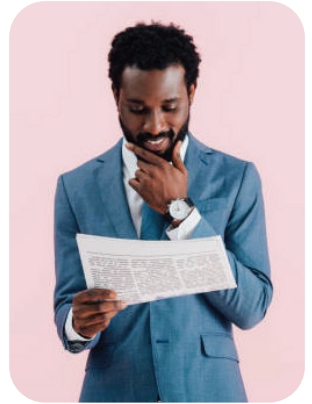

- Retail advertising rates apply to a retail business, organization or association doing business in Southeastern Wisconsin.
- Position requests will be honored as makeup permits. No section or page position can be guaranteed unless advertiser agrees to pay a 30% premium above cost for placement of said advertisement. No orders accepted on a position-or-omit basis.
- Adjustment of errors will be made only for area of ad involved and in proportion to lack of service to the advertiser. Advertising placed on a no-proof basis is done at the advertiser's risk. Any claim for adjustment must be made within 14 days of publication.
- No advertising that reflects negatively upon another advertiser will be accepted.
- All advertising and paid articles are accepted, subject to the approval of the Publisher or Director of Advertising.
- The advertiser agrees to indemnify and hold the newspaper harmless for any claims stemming from the publication of copy submitted by the advertiser. This includes, but is not limited to, claims for libel, invasion of privacy, plagiarism, copyright infringement and trademark infringement. The newspaper will not be liable for failure to publish any advertisement.
- Rates can be revised within 30 days written notice.

10 REASONS TO ADVERTISE WITH THE MILWAUKEE TIMES

- We have the largest circulation among minority-owned newspapers in Milwaukee reaching into the African American church community.
- We are the only minority-owned Blue Chip community newspaper in Wisconsin.
- We have a loyal readership that responds to advertisers with dollars.
- We offer balanced coverage of local, regional, national and international news and features every week.
- We publish several focus issues annually that highlight positive aspects of life in the African American community.
- Our target audience is professional; male and female; college-educated; upwardly mobile, and influential.
- Our publication offers a reader-friendly format with articles sectioned by interest - including news and editorials, arts and entertainment, education, travel and leisure, health and fitness, personal and business finance, food, religion and spirituality, and sports.
- We feature original content written by local contributors - "Counseling Corner" and "Being Frank," as well as op-ed pieces on hot topics of interest and exclusive interviews with local and national news makers.
- We offer marketing packages with rates to meet any promotional budget and objective.
- We are an "Essential Business" that never once closed during the pandemic.
